

ON M'KANE'S TRACK.

The Gravesend Boss Will Surely Be Prosecuted.

Case Not to Be Left to the Present Local Authorities.

Others, Besides M'Kane, May Be Brought to Bar.

Because of the delay in bringing the Gravesend outrage to the attention of the criminal courts, Czar John Y. McKane need not lay the unction to his soul that he will escape punishment.

Even now dozens of men, including some of the most expert lawyers of Kings County, are at work upon his case. Link after link in the chain of evidence is being welded together, and when the proper time comes he will be called to the bar.

McKane should not imagine for a moment that his friend, James W. Ridgway, will have charge of the prosecution, or that any member of the ring or any of its servants, will have hand or part in the proceedings. Well do the outraged citizens who smashed the ring on Tuesday know that in such an event the prosecution would be a farce. McKane would, they say, be triumphant, and bullees like the Gravesend would be encouraged to repeat their performance in elections that are to come.

James W. Ridgway, the District Attorney of Kings County, who, under ordinary circumstances, would have charge of McKane's prosecution, is not trusted by the men who are not on McKane's track. Only a few months ago a prominent member of the "Gold Thirteen" members of the Board of Aldermen, because Mr. Ridgway said the jury could not. Members of the Grand Jury afterwards told similar stories of Mr. Ridgway's interference with their prosecutive prerogatives.

No man remembers all this better than Edward M. Shepard, who in behalf of the indignant citizens has charge of the case against McKane. He was seen this morning at the office of the "Evening World" reporter, to whom he expressed his indignation at the Gravesend outrage.

"Do not let 'The Evening World' read for me," he said, "for I am not asleep. As a matter of fact, I have not even closed my eyes since I saw John Y. McKane and his gang placed behind the bars, where they are to be kept for a second trial. I am sure that McKane will be admitted that there is no law in this State to punish criminals."

"There is something more in his case than merely putting the matter before the courts. What would it avail us now? The gentlemen who will push this thing to the bitter end are not to be intimidated. I am sure that McKane will be admitted that there is no law in this State to punish criminals."

MR. SCHIEREN GOES SOUTH.

Will Recoupate Before Mapping Out His Reforms.

Changes Likely to Be Made in Brooklyn City Offices.

Mayor-elect Charles A. Schieren left Brooklyn this morning for the South, on a ten days' trip of recuperation.

On his return he will immediately begin the work of arranging the list of officeholders to be appointed by him.

To the officeholders, some of whom are little less than pensioners, this means the loss of what they, until the election night, believed was a lifelong "pension." Mr. Schieren has said that if elected he would clean out every department from top to bottom. The officeholders know what to expect, and they accept the result as inevitable.

Possibly one of the first departments to receive the attention of the newly-elected Mayor will be the Health Board. Everybody interested in the city government knows of the corruption and rottenness of this department. Some of the employees have been openly branded as thieves and robbers. It is not surprising that the Health Board is being reorganized.

The Mayor's anxiety to clear Dr. Griffin of charges made by pay-payers was never more evident than when he was elected. The Mayor's anxiety to clear Dr. Griffin of charges made by pay-payers was never more evident than when he was elected.

MR. KINKEL MAY BE ELECTED.

But Not if the Town of Gravesend's Vote Is Thrown Out.

Official Figures Coming in Slowly from City and Town.

It was unofficially announced in Brooklyn this morning that George Kinkel, the Democratic candidate for Supervisor-at-Large, had been elected.

The announcement was based on the return from the county towns which have not yet been put into shape.

If Mr. Kinkel is elected the Democrats will control the Board of Supervisors and all the county offices.

Mr. Kinkel's vote is thrown out. Mr. Kinkel will be defeated, anyway. Until the official count is made nothing definite can be learned about the persons elected where the figures are close.

A large number of clerks were at work on the figures this morning. The only official figures so far are a few Supervisors.

The First Ward Duke, Rep., polled 2,465, and Cronin, Dem., 1,835. Dahl, Rep., of the Third Ward, received 1,568 votes, to Brennan's (Dem.) 1,791.

Saw, Dem., of the Ninth Ward, got 2,965 votes, and Winters, Rep., 2,500. The latest returns at Police Headquarters show the following Assembliesmen elected: John C. Bullitt, of Philadelphia, has been added to the Northern Pacific Consolidated Mortgage Company's committee. He is one of the executives of the Drexel estate and represents on the Committee the interests of the estate.

The steamship Lahn brought 125,000 gold bars to Lazard Freres and 125,000 gold bars to the Bank of England. The rise in prices in the early trading was taken advantage of by the bears.

BEARS COVERING ON SUGAR.

Heavy Dealings.

After a Falling Off a Slight Rally Ensues.

There was little in the stock market this morning outside of Sugar. There is a powerful bull pool at work in this stock, and they seem to have a heavy market down the price 2-1/2 points.

SAILORS ACCUSE THE MATE OF THE L. SCHEPP OF BRUTALITY.

They Appeal to Shipping Commissioners Power for Redress.

Nine members of the crew of the American ship L. Schepp, which arrived at this port yesterday from Kobe, Japan, before Shipping Commissioner Power this morning and told a story of ill-treatment at the hands of the chief officer.

The Schepp sailed from Yokohama for Kobe, from which latter port she cleared on June 2. On the run from Yokohama Chief Officer Joseph Schupp, it is asserted by the sailors, assaulted Joseph Bennett, an able seaman, while on duty at the wheel. He knocked Bennett down and kicked him about the head and body.

When the vessel arrived at Kobe the crew refused to enter the complaint, and the chief officer, it is charged, ordered them to return to their vessel. The men refused, and claim that they were locked up until the ship was ready to sail.

On the voyage to this port, the men complained of the chief officer, and Frank Petersen on Aug. 23, for interceding in behalf of Alfred Dahlgren, who was confined to the bunk with inflammation of the lungs. The chief officer, it is charged, broke loose again, the sailors say, and locked down Carl Swenson on the poop-deck.

Capt. Carver was a witness to this assault, but the only objection he made was to the bloody condition of the deck resulting from it. One Louis Asklaker, a French sailor, complained of insufficient food, and the chief officer, it is charged, shackled him to the pump, and kept him there from 8 A. M. until midnight. The ship was then the Chief Officer, H. J. Day, and a heavy snowstorm prevailed all day.

The members of the crew were somewhat reticent, as they say, Mate Schupp had trouble with his men on the run from the port law, San Francisco, and got the witnesses against him in that case out of the way. One hundred dollars was paid to the Chief Officer, H. J. Day, who got the men drunk and took them to Oakland.

Commissioner Power sent the men to United States Commissioner Shields, who promptly issued a warrant for the mate's arrest.

AFTER THE BATTLE IN JERSEY.

Some Democrats Say Gov. Werts Should Call an Extra Session.

LANCASTER, N. J., Nov. 9.—The political leaders of both parties in New Jersey are now discussing the causes of the State being carried by the Republicans on Tuesday.

The Republicans say the passage of the race track law did it, and that the people decided on Tuesday that the State was to be carried by the Republicans on Tuesday.

Some outspoken Democrats say Gov. Werts should call an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of repealing the race track law.
